A PECULIAR FIRE.

A Large Frame Building on the Hill Destroyed This Morning.

The fire department was called to the corner of Taylor and Pleasant streets at 4 o'clock this morning. The fire was certainly one of the most peculiar ever seen, and utterly destroyed a large frame house with ten rooms and a bar-room, on the southwest corner, owned by David Rapp and occupied by David Schwartz, who ran a saloon and boarding house.

Everything was all right when the family went to bed at 10 o'clock, and again at 11, when Officers Walker and Nickles called to get a pair of stolen skates that had been recovered and left there by the police earlier in the evening. When they called they were given the key to the bar room and went in and looked for themselves to the skates. At this time the fire was out and there was nothing wrong. There were no evidences of fire or smoke either, when one of the boarders returned home at 2 o'clock.

Shortly before 4 o'clock, Mrs. Mason, a boarder sleeping in a front room, was awakened by a sensation of suffocation. She arose herself to find the room filled with smoke. She hastened to alarm the house, and as the whole building was filled with smoke there was a scene of excitement that beggars description. The drafts caused by opening doors gave strength to the fire, and the flames began to break through the ceilings and walls all over the house in the most unexpected places. There were about fifteen boarders in the house. Shivering, half dressed, some barefooted and others in their night clothes, they began scurrying about the house and out into the cold, wintry morning. The alarm was turned in from the box on the corner by a boarder named Wm. Brenner, and when the department arrived they found the whole interior of the house in flames. It was an extremely difficult one to fight, for the fire was all smothered within the partitions, and in this manner spread over the whole house. The smoke broke out from the house, and the fire was quenched by the fire engine. The house was a worthless shell and will have to be pulled down. All the partitions are burned out and the roof is destroyed. The people within succeeded in getting some of their furniture out, and they were scattered about in such promiscuous shape that a couple of police were detailed to watch them until they were moved in this morning.

Schwartz was away at Bainbridge, but his wife was here this morning. The family was ruined by the fire and water, and she estimates their loss at about $500. Rapp estimates his loss on the building at $2,500, on which he had $1,200 insurance in the Testonia of Dayton.

GLUTEN FLOUR.
"What is it?" This question is often asked by people accustomed only to the use of flour made by the ordinary process. Gluten flour, as its name indicates, is specially prepared, possessing the Gluten, or life-giving and muscle-building elements of the wheat, discarding entirely the bran, and nearly as practicable the starch. This a perfect product of what has been attained, palatable and highly nutritious. Specially adapted to the use of Diabetics and Dyspeptics.

Gluten Flour is made by Farwell & Rhines, Watertown, N. Y. Write for circulars and prices.

SUTTON RELEASED.
And Gives His Side of the Story of Alleged False Pretenses.
J. T. Sutton arrested last Wednesday night on a charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses was released yesterday afternoon having furnished the bill of lading for a part of the goods in question, and turned the rest over to the N. Y. P. & O. railroad until he could obtain the necessary bills. In justice to Sutton's own statement of the case is given as follows: He is the authorized and bonded agent of the Colby Wringer Company at this place and the goods in question were shipped from Haverhill, Massachusetts, to the Colby Company, Newbury at this point, while the bills of lading were sent to the general manager of the Cincinnati office, a Mr. Porter. Porter wrote to Sutton, telling him that the goods ought to be here and for him to get them from the freight office and set his men to work upon them. Sutton went to the N. Y. P. & O. freight office, and J. D. Phleger telephoned for him out to the freight house. They inquired if the goods were there. They asked if Sutton had the bills of lading and were told that he had not, but could identify himself by letter as the proper man. This they did by a letter from D. L. Dolson, of the American Express Company, and obtained the first batch of goods. When the second lot came he telephoned at from the American Express office, and the goods were delivered on Tuesday. When the drayman delivered them he asked when they could get the freight bills, and Sutton told him to assure McGree, the agent, that he should have them not later than Friday. On Wednesday evening McGree and an officer came to his place and put him under arrest.

Salvation Oil, the celebrated American remedy for cuts, bruises, sprains, burns, scalds, chilblains, etc., can be had of all druggists. It sells plain. Price, twenty-five cents a bottle.

Change of Postmaster at Xenia.
Thomas G. Brown, secretary and one of the directors of the Springfield Publishing Company, publishers of the Globe-Republic, has been named as postmaster of Xenia, a place he has held for nearly two terms, and which he has shown superior business and personal qualities. The Xenia Daily Torchlight, of Monday, speaks of Mr. Brown as follows: Postmaster Brown has done service in the postoffice for nearly seven years, and is serving his second term, which would have expired on a year ago next February. He has made a good postmaster and an official acceptable to the public. When he retires from the postoffice and he will not probably retire before the year 1890, he will devote himself exclusively to the newspaper business, of which he is very fond.

The Xenia Daily Gazette, of last evening, pays it tribute to Mr. Brown, as follows: Mr. Brown, who has been postmaster for the past six and three-quarter years, has done the work with perhaps as much satisfaction as has been done by any man. While the position is one of profit and not a great deal of labor, at least for the postmaster, it is full of perplexity, and many times requiring forbearance and patience. In this respect Mr. Brown has proved himself equal to the occasion. His management of the office as a whole and in particular can be said to have been done carefully and satisfactorily, to the public and to the government.

Mr. Brown will now, it is presumed, feel at liberty to change his residence from Xenia to Springfield. He would certainly be a valuable accession to our business and social circles.

THE HAPPY BOY.

With apologies to Tennyson's 'The Charge of the Light Brigade.'

You must wake and call me early, call me early, mother dear,
Tomorrow will be the happiest day in all the life long year.
The joy I'll have to-morrow, mother, a small boy you may know,
I'm going with papa to M. Knote's, mother, for a suit of clothes.

Lots of boys live on our street who costily clothe themselves,
But none of all our folks crowd can dress as well as I;
There's Tom and Jack, and Dick and Bob, and lots of fellows more,
But I dress best of any, ma, I buy all at J. M. Knote's store.

That overcoat I bought last year still looks as well as new,
In spite of all the use it had I cannot wear it through;
Instead of having turkey dinner last Thanksgiving day,
Pa said he'd go and get a suit, for that's the cheapest way.

So kindly call and wake me early, hand me out of bed,
For father wants to be down town in time for work, he said;
But first he'll go to J. M. Knote's store and get the suit for me,
For they have got the neatest styles and cheap as cheap can be.

THANKSGIVING.

Before I tell you about our stock, we must pause long enough to thank you for your generous support. If I have ever entertained any doubt as to you being in full sympathy with us I will dispel it at once. I desire no greater evidence of your sincerity in helping to raise the banner of a

Square Dealing CLOTHING HOUSE

Thursday, the 26th, was set apart by our Chief Magistrate as a day of Thanksgiving, in which we most heartily desired to participate, and would have done so cheerfully. But what were we to do? Customers crowding our door from early morn until the sun had sank far into the west.

Real hard, honest work stared us in the face and we went at it with a will, and were repaid at the close of the day by finding our sales far in excess of any previous Thanksgiving. Quite encouraging, I must admit.

To-day just as yesterday, I can meet your want, be it a

SUIT!

OR AN OVERCOAT.

New and fresh goods are constantly coming in. Where from? Why direct from the largest and best factories in the country. All that can be saved in buying

CLOTHING

Can be done right here. We are satisfied with

Small Profit and One Price

Satisfied with our system, and more than all, we are satisfied that better clothing cannot be found for

PRICE

Than ours. We can't leave our customers to tell you more about our stock. Perhaps they may be neighbors of yours that are waiting on. If so, spend the evening with them, and talk the matter over before coming to the city. If they receive good treatment you're bound to also. Everybody must be treated alike. Give us a look if you are in need of Clothing. I think we can save you about as well as anybody. We know the quality of goods pretty well, and when you buy we'll give you our judgment and do it honestly. Whether you buy or not, we'll try to do our part well.

MEXICAN SMUGGLING.
How American Goods are Smuggled Across the Mexican Line.
Pittsburgh manufacturers are bracing themselves in all directions and find a trade wherever they can. Within the past few years a very large trade has been built up with Mexico, and quantities of all the city's productions go down there. Iron and steel in all shapes and glassware are shipped there. The iron and steel which goes is generally too heavy to be smuggled, but there are plenty of opportunities in the lighter forms and glassware of all kinds. Now, while a great deal of this glassware passes the Mexican duty, more of it goes in free.
